
DANIEL C. COHEN, Louisiana State University

Residual freeness of arrangement groups

A group G is said to be residually free if every nontrivial element of G is detected by a map to a free group. We investigate the residual freeness of arrangement groups, fundamental groups of complements of complex hyperplane arrangements.

This is work in progress with Mike Falk.